

6 COUNTIES TO PARTICIPATE IN ROSWELL FAIR

Peros Valley Metropolis Is Making Great Preparations for the Annual Livestock and Products Show.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL

Roswell, N. M., Aug. 4.—Six counties will participate in the third annual state livestock and products exposition to be held here during the week of September 18, just preceding the state fair at Albuquerque. In the past the fair has been made up largely of exhibits from Eddy and Chaves counties, but this year Lincoln, Torrance, Roosevelt and Curry counties will have both livestock and products here. The taking over of the fair by the state fair board has created new interest among all the counties in the eastern part of the state, and it is believed that much will be accomplished toward getting the counties together, getting the citizens better acquainted and teaching each county the resources of the others.

Many of the exhibitors are planning to bring stock here and then take it on to Albuquerque for the state fair. All exhibits will be released here on Friday night so that there will be ample time to get it to Albuquerque. Every detail looking toward facilitating the movement of the exhibits will be attended to by the management of the fair here and by the Santa Fe rail road officials.

Will Have a Banquet.

During fair week there will be a big banquet participated in by representative citizens from each of the six counties. The details for this have not yet been worked out, but it is hoped to make it one of the biggest affairs of the kind ever held in the eastern part of the state.

The drought has to some extent caused the stockmen to suffer," said A. D. Clegg, manager of the fair. "But it will not interfere in any way with our fair here. The stockmen have never shown such interest in the fair as they are doing this year and we are going to have to enlarge our pens in order to take care of the many exhibits. For the most part I have found no herds participated for hunting or war of extermination against wolves, lions and other predatory animals.

Attract Tourists.

Following the organization, the meeting was addressed by Paul Slaughter and Bert Colter, prominent members of the Roswell Chamber of Commerce and Albie Leopold of the forest service. The location of three proposed game refuges in the White mountains was discussed. It was pointed out that the White mountains once the best game country in Arizona, have become sadly depleted, but that a sensible system of protection will not only bring back the game and fish but also attract an increasing number of tourists and sportsmen, to the mutual benefit of the local communities and the visitors. The state of Maine, it is said, takes in $5,000,000 a year from hunters and fishermen. The association believes that there is no reason why Arizona, with a much larger area, climate, more interesting history, and equally good game country should not do the same.

GREEN CORN DANCE DRAWS LARGE CROWD

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL

Santa Fe, Aug. 4.—More than 200 excursionists today attended the Santo Domingo Green Corn Dance. Director Edgar L. Hewett, of the School of American Archaeology, gave a lecture on the customs, explaining the significance of each detail of the dance. Most of the excursionists came by motor, although the Santa Fe, on its special train from Santa Fe, brought 125 excursionists altogether.

In the forenoon, the Catholic church ceremonies took place, mass being celebrated, a number of weddings solemnized, and a procession with the image of the patron saint proceeding to the plaza, where the saint was placed under a baldachin of green and looked upon the ceremonies of the afternoon. It was a little before 12 o'clock when the dancers emerged from the areas of the summer and the winter people and ran to the four directions of the Santo Domingo domain. Soon after came the kosharies or spirits of the ancestors, the departed fathers of the pueblo. These were spotted with stains of paint and carried masks of corn husks, giving them a grotesque appearance to which they owe their popular name of "devils" or "demon-makes," although originally they were far from humorous. They followed the dance, about a hundred dancers, men and women, in their highly significant costumes, emerging from each kiva in turns and dancing with the kosharies who are believed to be invisible, dodging in and out between them.

Several of the tourists had their cameras smashed by the violent people armed with long sticks, who kept watch to prevent photographs being taken.

At 5 o'clock the oldest man of the village sounded the conch, to denote yesterdays, and that the end of the dance had come. Last night, as well as tonight, was given to feasting. At sunrise the rain priest and a number of the bucks deposited prayer offerings at the ancient shrines, an offering to the sky father and the earth mother.

Excursions to Santa Fe.

Santa Fe, Aug. 4.—A big excursion will be run from Anthony and Alamogordo to Santa Fe on next Saturday, August 12. The train will return on Sunday evening. The excursionists will take in the Santa Clara harvest dance on Saturday afternoon, the train stopping several hours. An excursion will be run from Santa Fe to meet the visitors at Santa Clara and to witness the Santa Clara dance at the same time, affording an opportunity to visit the summer school sessions on the Puye.

Hartman to Fort Smith.

Santa Fe, Aug. 4.—Troy L. Hartman, charmed by Uncle Sam with debasing the United States treasury out of some $60,000 revenue in selling illicit whisky, was taken on his tour to Fort Smith, Ark., from the New Mexico penitentiary on Santa Fe train No. 1 last evening by United States Marshal A. H. Hudspeth.

Mine Caved.

Santa Fe, Aug. 4.—The famous Berlin Stephenson mine in the Organ Mountains has been unwatered to last and a fifty horsepower gasoline engine has been set up to further the development work.

ORGANIZE FOR PROTECTION OF FISH AND GAME

Sportsmen and Stockmen of the White Mountain Country Take the Initiative in a Commendable Plan.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL

Springerville, Ariz., Aug. 4.—At a well attended meeting held here Thursday, the sportsmen and stockmen of the White mountain country perfected an organization for the protection and development of the fish and game resources of Apache country. Davis, Lloyd and Springer, county officers were elected. Gustav Schenck, president; Fredric Wain, vice-president; H. L. Legan, secretary; William Hammell, treasurer.

Field vice presidents were elected to represent the association as follows: John Butler Greer, Barr J. Colter, Colter; W. L. Wilkins, Eagar. The towns of Nutrioso and Alpine, it is said, will shortly follow suit and elect representatives.

Observe the Law.

Each member of the new organization is personally pledged to observe and support a platform of principles, among which are included the rigid observance and impartial enforcement of the game laws, the prohibition of spring shooting of wildfowl, the establishment of a system of game refuges, the extermination of predatory animals, and the rendering of aid and support to conscientious deputy game wardens.

Resolutions were passed urging the passage of the threatened bill now before Congress for creating a war of extermination against wolves, lions and other predatory animals.

Attract Tourists.

Following the organization, the meeting was addressed by Paul Slaughter and Bert Colter, prominent members of the Roswell Chamber of Commerce and Albie Leopold of the forest service.

The location of three proposed game refuges in the White mountains was discussed. It was pointed out that the White mountains once the best game country in Arizona, have become sadly depleted, but that a sensible system of protection will not only bring back the game and fish but also attract an increasing number of tourists and sportsmen, to the mutual benefit of the local communities and the visitors. The state of Maine, it is said, takes in $5,000,000 a year from hunters and fishermen. The association believes that there is no reason why Arizona, with a much larger area, climate, more interesting history, and equally good game country should not do the same.

Notes of Interest From State Museum

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL

Santa Fe, Aug. 4.—Charles P. Wilson of Denver today became a member of the Archaeological society. Rev. and Mrs. John H. Heald arrived today in their motor car to attend the summer school at the Puye.

A much larger crowd than had been anticipated turned out last evening for the talk by Director Edgar L. Hewett on the green corn dance of Santo Domingo, its symbolism and significance.

For the following registered at the museum: E. F. Orr, Baldwin Heights, Panama Canal Zone; H. B. Donaldson and wife, New York; F. H. Fowler and wife, Abilene, Tex.; F. Parsons, Chicago; S. Heppell, El Paso; A. C. Pierce and wife, Dallas; James A. Pierce and wife Logan; A. B. Dorsey and wife, L. C. Cooper and wife, Mrs. G. Burke and son, Los Vegas; F. W. Shawver, Showerville, Mo.; E. H. Taylor, Atlanta, Ga.; Charles L. Schrock, Marlow, Okla.; H. N. Mullin, El Paso; Walter H. Moore, Jeromeville; O. J. W. Dixon, Canyon, Tex.; F. M. Gandy, Canyon, Tex.; J. S. Fugate, Abiquiu; Cole, L. C. Miller, Tulsa, Tex.; A. B. Miller, Protection; Katt, J. A. Toppling, Chicago; A. M. Roberts, Gulf S. M. W. P. Liggett, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Katherine P. Heald, J. S. Heald, Albuquerque; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Herring, Jackson, Tenn.

Mrs. L. L. W. Wilson and her assistant, B. W. Schleifer, came in last evening from the Oboyo excavations to attend the corn dance. They report many important finds during the past two weeks in addition to their usual discoveries announced some time ago.

James Anderson, a teamster, and two Santa Clara Indians visited the department to help women on and assist in carrying loads and making as useful and obliging to the traveling public as possible.

If this "courtesy draft" is successful additional men will be employed on other cars.

EX-PRESIDENT OF CHINA NOT DEAD. ENEMIES ASSERT

Faction Unfriendly to Former Rule of Celestial Empire Insist That He Is Alive and in a Foreign Country.

SPECIAL PRESS CORRESPONDENCE

Peking, July 26.—Not content with surrounding Yuan Shih-kai's death by mystery and suggesting that he either killed himself or was poisoned, the enemies of the late president are now suggesting that he is not dead at all, but has made his escape to a foreign land and shielded his associates in alleged financial irregularities by means of the influence of the present government.

This astounding view is not confined to mere word-of-mouth gossip, but has found its way into the Chinese press, and is apparently believed by some Chinese, particularly those of the conservative class.

An anonymous letter writer whose communication appears in the Peking Daily Gazette says: "Do you think anyone is so stupid as to believe that Yuan Shih-kai is dead, or that whole mass of putrid theatricality which we have just been entertained in anything more than a huge and very sneaking practical joke perpetrated by those implicated in China's misfortunes so as to free themselves from the grip of justice?"

For Ways That Are Dark.

"Just allow me to run over this scene in this recent farce. First the banks were ruined officially and a lot of other depredations committed. There was no way to escape the consequences except by having all the blame on one person and then smuggling away in feigned death."

"Second. The other participants had sufficient intent power at the time of Yuan Shih-kai's death, and his successor had sufficient generosity to record Yuan Shih-kai the burial of a national hero."

In concluding his letter, the correspondent says: "Talk of foreign experts? What are foreign experts, but many associated with the chemistry to a corrupt bureaucracy? Does China need any foreign advice—or has she ever taken any—in the tricks of politics, diplomacy, finance, engineering, or of journalism? China can give this to a corrupt world in any of the five arts of statescraft. I do not refer to professional experts. When you buy machine in any country or embark in anything new, you get a man to show you its work, but the Chinese are past masters at anything in statecraft."

SHACKLETON AGAIN FAILS IN MISSION

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WRITER

London, Aug. 4 (9:30 p. m.)—Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton has again failed to rescue the main body of his Antarctic expedition left on Elephant island, says the Daily Chronicle, and has returned to Falkland Islands.

Sir Ernest returned on board the steamer Emma, says a leader dispatched from Port Stanley. The ship was forced back by heavy gales and ice and was found impossible to get near Elephant island through the pack ice. The ship was battered, the engines were injured and the Emma was obliged to proceed under sail.

Sir Ernest, the correspondent adds, recognizes that it is useless to have a mission to the rescue of the party.

He has almost completed his

HOTEL MANAGERS BOOST NATION TOURING WEEK

The Greatest American Automobile Outing Wins Support Everywhere; Starts Tomorrow.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

New York, Aug. 4.—Ever since the beginning of the war there has been a great deal of sentiment expressed in favor of American excursions for vacation. At the meeting of the League to Protect Peace held at Washington a few months ago, one of the most spectacular scenes of the session followed the suggestion of one of the speakers proposing that former President Taft should undertake to head an unofficial group to visit Europe and endeavor to bring the warring nations to peaceful terms of settlement. And since at the very outbreak of the war, with General David Starr Jordan, of Stanford, and a number of prominent men, including Henry Ford, the League to Protect Peace has been working to head an unofficial group to visit Europe and endeavor to bring the warring nations to peaceful terms of settlement.

Good hotels and good excursions are much a desired feature of touring as good roads. Long before the present good roads, which now exist in practically every state, the resort hotels catered to motor car owners and received their patronage. With some of these resort hotels today the trade represents from 50 to 75 per cent of the guests. This is especially true of the seaboard, lake and mountain resorts, the recreation or playgrounds of Mr. American Tourist.

The tourist hotel has added a new thought to the chain who is taking his brain to determine what he is going to do on his motor tour, for it answers, speaking right up, "Spend it in our hotel in your automobile."

National Touring Week, from the larger hotels throughout the country. These hotels constantly cater to the touring motorists, resulting in the spirit of Touring Week.

Hotels and guest houses, including existing and new, are being urged to make room for the National Touring Week. The designation has been adopted of "National Touring Week" to denote the period of the month of August when the National Touring Week idea is best on the roads.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere. He can do it, and need good touring conditions no matter where he is located. The improvement of our main arteries of travel during the past five or six years has made this possible. Practically every state has defined its system of state highways, and it is these highways, the main arteries, which received the first improvement.

It is a noticeable fact that state highways, with but few exceptions, are the ones followed to reach a resort hotel or resort district, and that where a division from the state road is necessary to reach the resort or hotel, the local interests usually see to it that the roads thereto are kept in good condition. As stated in the department of agriculture, the automobile is responsible for many roads now improved which would not have been considered in any state system of highways. And the hotel men know why.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS NOTES

Thirty-eight boys attended the meeting of members of the boys department Thursday evening in the department rooms. A temporary committee was elected by the boys, composed of Alfred Szankay, Lawrence Lovett, William Sennitt, Amos Chapman and Karen Rogers. The work of the temporary committee is to select a permanent committee of three members which will serve for the entire year.

By October 1 the boys' division will have been elected and will have charge of all club, library and social activities which the department will endeavor to put on.

The men's swimming classes will start next week. All members of the senior department who cannot swim and want to learn the lessons, are asked to leave their names at the main office. There will be two classes for non-swimmers, one at 5 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and the other at 7 o'clock Tuesday, and Thursday evenings. Don't forget to leave your name at the main office.

Two clubs of interest to the seniors which will be started about the 1st of October are the Glee Club and the Senate of Dramatic Club. The administration officers hope to offer choice for and in everything the members are interested.

They are anxious to have the Glee Club and the Senate of Dramatic Club succeed in their efforts to make the Glee Club and the Senate of Dramatic Club a success.

Deserts the Movement.

The men's swimming classes will start next week. All members of the senior department who cannot swim and want to learn the lessons, are asked to leave their names at the main office. There will be two classes for non-swimmers, one at 5 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and the other at 7 o'clock Tuesday, and Thursday evenings. Don't forget to leave your name at the main office.

Two clubs of interest to the seniors which will be started about the 1st of October are the Glee Club and the Senate of Dramatic Club. The administration officers hope to offer choice for and in everything the members are interested.

Two clubs of interest to the seniors which will be started about the 1st of October are the Glee Club and the Senate of Dramatic Club. The administration officers hope to offer choice for and in everything the members are interested.

FORD'S PEACE TRIP A FAILURE, AKED DECLares

Clergyman Is Not Encouraged by Results of Six Months Spend Abroad; Henry's Attitude Unsolved Mystery.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

New York, Aug. 4.—Ever since the beginning of the war there has been a great deal of sentiment expressed in favor of American excursions for vacation.

At the meeting of the League to Protect Peace held at Washington a few months ago, one of the most spectacular scenes of the session followed the suggestion of one of the speakers proposing that former President Taft should undertake to head an unofficial group to visit Europe and endeavor to bring the warring nations to peaceful terms of settlement.

Good hotels and good excursions are much a desired feature of touring as good roads.

Hotels and guest houses, including existing and new, are being urged to make room for the National Touring Week.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

The National Touring Week idea is one of education. It aims to show the motorist a continuity of good roads throughout his state for an extended trip beyond his fifty-mile sphere.

<p